Because we grow according to the seasons and growing conditions of the farm, our wedding flowers are grower's choice—a reflection of what is blooming beautifully and abundantly at the time of your celebration. This means your flowers will be uniquely seasonal, with the colors, textures, and varieties that are at their very best when your wedding arrives. We are happy to accommodate color palette requests whenever possible, though specific flowers and colors cannot be guaranteed. Prices are for farm pickup. Please reach out to us to discuss delivery options.
